

We are a small firm based in the west of Ireland in the beautiful county of Mayo, 3 miles outside the town of Castlebar.

We produce house plaques and signs made from genuine Irish limestone. How many times have you looked in the shops or online and every item is the same no matter where you go, your local town or overseas on holiday. Everything is the same. We take great pride in the fact that each of our products are totally unique - no two plaques are the same. No mass production or factory moulds or global sourcing in our little operation, just naturally made Irish limestone with all those little shells crushed over millions of years to produce a one of a kind plaque. You can see the fossil of the little creatures in your sign. Your Irish limestone plaque holds a slice of time millions of years old long before man ever walked the earth.

Irish history is rich with imagery ranging from Neolithic spirals from Stonehenge, intricate Celtic ornamentation and extraordinary manuscript like the book of Kells. We draw on these rich sources to design signs and plaques and other engraved products with authentic Irish character and pedigree. If you have any particular requirements please let us know and we will do our best to help you.
